On the above date a letter was delivered to the Sheriff's Office that contained writing indicating that the author was suffering from mental health issues. Sheriff Kerss recognized the author from information contained within the letter and recognized him to be a patient of the Burke Center. The information contained in the letter also was consistent with information listed in two other letters that had been previously mailed by the same author to other entities. The person's family was contacted and informed of the writings. His mother advised that the individual had not been taking his prescribed medication but she had refilled his prescription and she would attempt to ensure he took his medication. She also advised that an appointment was being made with his psychiatrist for the following week. Sheriff Kerss informed her that based on those facts we would not seek for a mental health committal order unless the subject began displaying additional signs or symptoms of digression or became an immediate threat to himself or others.
