On Monday 08-05-2013 at approximately 2200 hrs a Deputy was dispatched to speak with a subject in reference to threats. The female complainant stated that in July of 2011 she loaned a subject $900 to purchase a horse. The man has not paid her back and advised her to take possession of the horse. The complainant called family members of the male and they told her she better have someone with her if she was going to get the horse. The complainant felt threatened by this statement. However, the "threat" was made over the telephone and did not fit the requirement of imminent harm. The complainant wanted a Deputy to do a civil stand by to recover the horse. NO paperwork exist for proof of the loan or ownership of the horse. The complainant was advised to file a small claims civil suit to recover the money. Based on her statement there was no criminal charge. The male could not be contacted. EOR
