Gemstone Soap at the Library

(Nacogdoches, TX) – To start off the Libraries Rock! summer reading theme for adults, the Nacogdoches Public Library will offer a class on Gemstone Soap on Monday, June 4th at 5:30 pm. Participants will learn to combine glycerine soap and mica to create beautiful gemstone shaped hand soap bars. The event is free, but registration is required. Registration may be done in person, from the library's website at www.ci.nacogdoches.tx.us/library or by calling 559-2970.
