SignUp Genius Class at the Nacogdoches Public Library

(Nacogdoches, TX) – With the beginning of the school year come many opportunities for individuals or parents to assist their organizations. To keep track of volunteer times, who's bringing what to the potluck, or who's manning the concession stand, the Nacogdoches Public Library is offering a class on the popular, online sign-up site called SignUp Genius. The class will be held Monday, July 29th at 7:00 pm.

The class will show participants how to create online sign-up sheets for their work, volunteer group, or social network. The class is free, but registration is required. Please register online at www.ci.nacogdoches.tx.us/library or by calling library staff at (936) 559-2970.
