Library Encounter Boxes from the Public Library

(Nacogdoches, TX) – The Nacogdoches Public Library presents another nontraditional library service, the Library Encounter Box. Subscription boxes are everywhere, and more and more people pay experts to curate their consumer goods. From beauty products to groceries, subscription boxes provide a selection of items chosen for a particular niche. It turns out librarians already provide similar services to their patrons for free! Your local librarian not only recommends your next great read, but they also help navigate the world of information and create experiences for their patrons in the form of programs and special events.

The Library Encounter Box is a monthly package designed for book and library lovers. Contents may include handmade items, tips, projects, reading and viewing suggestions, and much more. The box is free for library patrons, and a limited supply will be released each month on a first come, first served basis. For this first offering, the theme will be Hygge, the Danish concept of cozy warmth in winter, and subscriptions will open on Monday, January 27th. Subsequently, subscriptions will open on the 20th of each month and will remain open until filled. Boxes will be available for pick up at the library in the last week of each month.

Registration may be done on the library's website at www.ci.nacogdoches.tx.us/library. Follow the library on Facebook (as Nacogdoches Public Library) and Twitter & Instagram (as @friendsofnacpl).
