A.A.R.P. Free Tax Preparation at the Public Library

(Nacogdoches, TX) – AARP Tax-Aide volunteers have been providing free tax preparation for families and individuals at the Nacogdoches Public Library on Mondays from 9 am to 11:30 am on a first-come, first-serve basis. There will be no tax preparation service on Monday, March 9th. Services will resume March 16th and continue through April 6th. There are no age or income restrictions to receive this service. However, participants must come prepared with photo I.D., social security card for everyone on the tax return, all W-2s, 1099s, other tax receipts, voided check or deposit slip and last year's tax return.

Customers may also use the library's public Internet computers to prepare their own tax returns. Please call 559-2970 for more information.
