Nacogdoches Public Library Reopens to the Public- Phase One

(Nacogdoches, TX) – The Nacogdoches Public Library closed its doors to the public on March 16th in an effort to slow the spread of COVID-19. Since then library staff has been cleaning library materials, furniture and computer stations to ensure the safety of library patrons and staff.

On June 1st, the Nacogdoches Public Library entered Phase One of its reopening plan. Order-Ahead & Pick-Up may be done by calling library staff or placing an order online at www.ci.nacogdoches.tx.us/library. Customers may reserve up to 15 items per household. Pick-up is in the meeting room and by appointment to maintain safe social distancing between customers.

Customers may continue to return items through the outdoor book drop. All returned items are quarantined for seven days. No late fees are being assessed during this time.

During Phase One the library's interior remains closed to the public and all library programs are online. Customers may also continue to access the library's electronic eBook and eAudio book collection. For more information, please contact library staff at 936-559-2970.
